Policy and Advice Statement with respect to Strikes by Members of Another Bargaining Unit

Adopted September 22, 1978 and amended November 15, 2002 and February 28, 2014

The Association recognizes that one of the principles of unionism is that a union member should respect the request of other members of the union movement that they honour a picket line. However, decisions of the Ontario Labour Relations Board indicate that an Association-promoted refusal by an employee to cross a picket line set up by another union may constitute a strike which would violate the Labour Relations Act and the collective agreement. In light of this the Association must advise its membership as follows:

- 1) In the event of a legal strike against the Board of Governors by another union, members of the Association shall not undertake the work of those employees who are involved in such a strike. In such a situation members should also be alert to violations of our own contract or of the law, such as a reduction of services, unsafe or unsanitary conditions. Any attempt to compel members of the Association to do the work of striking employees or assist their replacements outside their normal duties or other violations of our own contract should be protested through the Grievance Procedures of our contract.

- 2) In the event of a legal strike by another union, members should also be aware of the fact that students may have conscientious objections to crossing a picket line. It is the view of the Association that such conscientious objection should be respected without prejudice to the individual student and that members should take appropriate measures to accommodate such objections.
- 3) A mass refusal, promoted by the Association, to cross picket lines established at the University campus may constitute an illegal strike and subject the Association to appropriate penalties for violation of the Ontario Labour Relations Act and the collective agreement, particularly if members of the Association in positions of responsibility are involved, such as Councillors and Executive Officers.
- 4) The absence of a clause in our collective agreement insulating employees from disciplinary action on the part of the employer means that members of the academic staff who observe legal picket lines run a risk of disciplinary action by the employer; such disciplinary action usually takes the form of docking of pay. In the event of such discipline, members of the bargaining unit have a right to fair representation from the Association as in any other case.

Workplace Harassment

“Workplace Harassment” as defined by the Occupational Health and Safety Act, means, engaging in a course of vexatious comment or conduct against a worker in a workplace that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome.

Harassment is an expression of perceived power and superiority by the harasser(s) over another person or group. Harassment may be based on one of the following (though it does not have to be): sex, race, creed, colour, religion, ethnic origin, place of origin, sexual orientation, political affiliation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, family status, disability, language, age, social and economic class, or activism and participation in a union.

Harassment is unwelcome, unwanted and uninvited. It may be expressed verbally or physically, is usually coercive and it can occur as a single incident or on a repeated basis. It comprises actions, attitudes, language or gestures, which the harasser knows or reasonably ought to know are abusive, unwelcome or wrong. It may include but is not limited to:

- Unwelcome remarks, jokes, innuendos, taunts or other discriminatory communication in any media;
- Insulting or malicious gestures or practical jokes which cause someone embarrassment or discomfort;
- Ridiculing, degrading or expressing hatred or intolerance, whether verbally, in writing or physically;
- Display of offensive material/pictures or graffiti;
- Placing unreasonable limitations on someone because of a perceived need (e.g. disability, pregnancy, etc.);
- Leering (sexually suggestive staring);
- Defamation of religious imagery;
- Mockery of religious practices, customs or religious wear;
- Demands for sexual favours;
- Unnecessary physical contact such as touching, patting or pinching;
- Making comments about one’s appearance or personal life; or,

- Expressing or promoting racial hatred.

Harassment does not include the legitimate exercise of management functions and legitimate exercise of academic freedom.

Bullying and Personal Harassment

Bullying or personal harassment are defined as actions which degrade or demean an individual including but not limited to: mobbing, offensive, malicious and/or cruel behaviour with the aim to humiliate, intimidate, undermine or destroy the character or confidence of an individual or group of individuals. Bullying and personal harassment may include an abuse of power or perceived power by one person or group over another that degrades an individual. Bullying behaviour is often persistent and part of a pattern, but it can also occur as a single incident. This is normally carried out by an individual who ought reasonably to have known that his/her actions are unwelcome or unwanted. It can also be an aspect of group behaviour. The policy includes any member in any type of relationship, for example domestic, intimate or common law partnerships.

Some examples of bullying and personal harassment include but are not limited to:

- Abusive and offensive language;
- Insults;
- Teasing;
- Spreading rumour or innuendo;
- Unfair blame for mistakes;
- Exclusion;
- Intimidation;
- Humiliation;
- Practical jokes;
- Outbursts or displays of anger directed at others;
- Targeting of an individual through persistent, unwarranted criticism;
- Belittling or disregarding opinions or suggestions; or,
- Public criticism.

Context is important in understanding bullying, particularly verbal communication. There is a difference between friendly insults between long-time work colleagues and comments that are meant to be, or are taken as demeaning.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment violates personal integrity, the dignity of individuals and groups and fundamental rights. Sexual harassment occurs when an individual engages in sexually harassing behaviour or inappropriate conduct of a sexual nature that is known, or ought reasonably to be known, to be unwelcome and that:

- Interferes with the employment or participation in an Association-related activity for the person harassed; and/or,
- Is associated with an expressed or implied promise of employment-related or other consequences for the person being harassed (including reward, reprisal, or conditions of study or employment); and/or,
- Provides a basis for employment or other decisions affecting the person harassed; and/or,
- Creates an abusive, demeaning, or threatening environment for the person harassed; and/or,
- Excludes the person harassed from rights and/or privileges to which they are entitled.

Some examples of sexual harassment include but are not limited to:

- Unwelcome sexual solicitations, flirtations or advances;
- Sexually suggestive comments, gestures, threats or verbal abuse;
- Sexual assault which includes unwarranted touching or physical contact of a sexual nature or coerced consent to sexual contact;
- Inappropriate display or transmission of sexually suggestive or explicit pictures, posters, objects or graffiti;
- Leering, compromising invitations or demands for sexual favours;
- Degrading, demeaning or insulting sexual comment or content, including unwelcome remarks, taunting, jokes or innuendos about a person's body, sexual orientation or sexual conduct;
- Misuse of position or authority to secure sexual favours;
- Persistent, unwanted attention or requests for sexual contact after a consensual relationship has ended; or,
- A course of sexualized comment or conduct that interferes with the dignity or privacy of an individual or group.

This policy is not intended to interfere with ordinary social or personal relationships among members or staff of the Association or impinge on normal expectations of privacy. Consensual relationships are not examples of sexual harassment.

Abuse of Supervisory Authority

Abuse of supervisory authority includes all forms of making conditional or appearing to make conditional employment, or other services, benefits, opportunities or facilities upon performance unrelated or irrelevant to the employment status of the one supervised. Such abuse can occur even if it does not have the intention or effective of benefitting the supervisor in question.

This can include unjustified discipline such as a supervisor who undervalues work, withholds vital information, sets individuals up to fail, monitors movement or removes areas of responsibility without justification.

Volunteer

A volunteer is defined as an Officer of the Association (as outlined in the Association Constitution) or any non-Employee working on behalf of the Association in an official capacity.

Workplace

The workplace is defined as the Association's offices as well as any location where the business of the Association is being or is to be conducted.

Policy:

The Carleton University Academic Staff Association is committed to providing a workplace in which all individuals are treated with respect and dignity. As such, the Association will take whatever steps are reasonable to protect our members and workers from harassment from all sources.

Harassment, including but not limited to workplace harassment, sexual harassment, personal harassment, bullying or abuse of supervisory authority, will not be tolerated from any person in the workplace. This policy applies to all members and staff of the Association as well as visitors, contractors, students and volunteers. Everyone is expected to uphold this policy and to work together to prevent workplace harassment.

There is a workplace harassment program that implements this policy. It includes measures and procedures to protect against workplace harassment, a means of summoning immediate assistance and a process for the reporting of incidents or the raising of concerns.

The Association shall ensure this policy and the supporting program are implemented and maintained and that all individuals covered by the policy have appropriate information and instruction to protect them from harassment in the workplace.

The Association pledges to investigate and deal with all incidents and complaints of workplace harassment in a fair and timely manner as outlined in the workplace harassment program, respecting the privacy of all concerned as much as possible.

Nothing in this policy prevents or discourages a worker or member from filing an application with the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario on a matter related to Ontario's Human Right's Code within one year of the last alleged incident. Workers and members also retain the right to exercise any other legal avenues that may be available.

All must work in compliance with this policy and the supporting program.

Reporting

Threatening or violent behavior shall not be ignored. Individuals are strongly encouraged to raise any concerns about or incidents of workplace harassment. Reports should be made to the President, President-Elect or Executive Director.

There will be no negative consequences for persons making reports in good faith.

CUASA Member Conduct Policy

Adopted on March 24, 2022

Approval Authority: CUASA Council

Mandatory Review Date: March 2025

1.0 Introduction

1.1 CUASA recognizes that harassment and discrimination erode the ability of individuals to meaningfully exercise their associational rights and in turn erodes the Association's collective power. All individuals are entitled to fully participate in the Association's affairs without fear of harassment. As a result, CUASA is committed to working towards providing individuals with an environment in which members are treated with dignity and respect.

1.2 CUASA recognizes that as a labour union, it is a political organization, and it is necessary to protect the freedom of expression in order to properly advance the interests of its membership. Furthermore, CUASA is a labour union of academic professionals and as such, academic freedom remains of the utmost importance. These values must be considered together with the need for individuals to be free from harassment in union activities. Harassment does not include legitimate political debate and the exercise of academic freedom.

2.0 Scope

2.1 This policy governs the interactions between CUASA bargaining unit members while they are engaging in Association activities, including but not limited to, attending:

- meetings;
- events;
- conferences;
- educationals;
- workshops;
- town halls;
- demonstrations;
- picket lines; and
- assemblies.

2.2 Online activity, such as posting intimidating comments on social media or sending inappropriate emails, will also be covered by this policy so long as it is between CUASA members.

3.0 Definition of harassment

3.1 Harassment is defined as conduct that is known to be, or ought known to be, unwelcome.

3.2 Harassment is an expression of perceived power and superiority by the harasser(s) over another person or group. Harassment may be based on one of the following (though it does not have to be): sex, race, creed, colour, religion, ethnic origin, place of origin, sexual orientation, political affiliation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, family status, disability, language, age, social and economic class, or activism and participation in a union.

3.3. Harassment is unwelcome, unwanted and uninvited. It may be expressed verbally or physically, is usually coercive and it can occur as a single incident or on a repeated basis. It comprises actions, attitudes, language or gestures, which the harasser knows or reasonably ought to know are abusive, unwelcome or wrong. It may include but is not limited to:

- Unwelcome remarks, jokes, innuendos, taunts or other discriminatory communication in any media, including online media;
- Insulting or malicious gestures or practical jokes which cause someone embarrassment or discomfort;
- Ridiculing, degrading or expressing hatred or intolerance, whether verbally, in writing or physically;
- Display of offensive material/pictures or graffiti;
- Placing unreasonable limitations on someone because of a perceived need (e.g. disability, pregnancy, etc.);
- Leering (sexually suggestive staring);

- Expressing or promoting racial hatred.

Bullying and personal harassment may include an abuse of power or perceived power by one person or group over another that degrades an individual. Bullying behaviour is often persistent and part of a pattern, but it can also occur as a single incident. This is normally carried out by an individual who ought reasonably to have known that his/her actions are unwelcome or unwanted. It can also be an aspect of group behaviour. The policy includes any member in any type of relationship, for example domestic, intimate or common law partnerships.

Some examples of bullying and personal harassment include but are not limited to:

- Persistent, unwanted attention or requests for sexual contact after a consensual relationship has ended; or,
- A course of sexualized comment or conduct that interferes with the dignity or privacy of an individual or group.

5.2 This policy is not intended to interfere with ordinary social or personal relationships among members of the Association or impinge on normal expectations of privacy. Consensual relationships are not examples of sexual harassment.

6.0 Harassment statement

6.1 To support CUASA's efforts to provide a harassment-free environment, the Chair of a meeting or coordinator of a CUASA event will read the following statement aloud before every CUASA event to remind individuals of the conduct expected within the Association:

CUASA aims to create a harassment-free environment for all its members. Everyone is entitled to fully participate in CUASA's activities without fear that they will be targeted, harassed, discriminated against, or bullied. Harassment weakens and divides our membership. CUASA is committed to working towards providing individuals with an environment in which all members are treated with dignity and respect.

7.0 The Investigatory Council and Appeals Council

7.1 In order to properly address allegations of harassment between members, CUASA Council will create both an Investigatory Council and Appeals Council to apply this policy on its behalf. The Investigatory Council and Appeals Council shall be considered standing committees.

7.2 The Investigatory Council has the delegated authority to:

- screen complaints to determine if they should move forward in the Complaints Process;
- refer parties to a complaint to dispute resolution at any point in the Complaints Process;
- investigate allegations of harassment;
- make findings on the presence of harassment; and
- impose penalties where complaints of harassment are founded.

7.3 Where a respondent or complainant seeks an appeal, the complaint is referred to the Appeals Council. The Appeals Council will review the decision of the Investigatory Council using the material that was before the Investigatory Council. The Appeals Council has the delegated authority to:

- dismiss the appeal;
- allow the appeal; and/or

- vary the penalty imposed.

7.4 In order to determine the makeup of the Investigatory Council and the Appeals Council, CUASA will form a roster of Association members. The roster will always have 9-10 members on it. These members must be trained on how to receive complaints, process complaints, investigate complaints, maintain confidentiality, and ensure procedural fairness. Individuals on the roster will be trained on both the Investigatory Council and Appeals Council processes.

7.5 For each complaint, the Investigatory Council and the Appeals Council shall be made up of three members from the roster. Members are not able to sit on both Councils at the same time for the same complaint. However, a member may be selected to sit on the Investigatory Council for one complaint and the Appeals Council for another.

7.6 Once the Investigatory Council is formed, the members on the Council will choose a Chair to lead meetings and decide on the timeliness of complaints.

7.7 Steering Committee members may form part of the roster in the event that no other members are available. Where a member of the Steering Committee is selected to sit on either one of these Councils, CUASA must limit the number of Steering Committee members to 1 out of 3 at a time on either Council.

7.8 If a complainant or respondent of a harassment complaint requests that a member recuse themselves from sitting on the Investigatory Council or Appeals Council due to an alleged conflict of interest, it will be the decision of the respective Council to decide if recusal would be appropriate. Where a member is deemed to be in a conflict of interest, a new individual from the roster will be chosen. Where no conflict of interest is found, the Council will proceed forward with the complaint.

8.0 Step 1 of the Complaints Process: Reporting

8.1 Where a member or elected official believes they have been subjected to harassment from another member or elected official, they have 3 months, or 90 calendar days, from when they knew or ought to have known that the misconduct last occurred to file a complaint with a rostered member who shall preserve the complaint until a section 7.6 of this policy is duly completed and the complaint may be turned over to the Chair of the Investigatory Council.

8.2 Should a member or elected official wish to report an incident which falls outside this limitation period, the Chair of the Investigatory Council retains the discretion to either:

- admit the complaint where extraordinary circumstances are present; or
- dismiss the complaint as untimely.

8.3 Any individual related to a complaint, whether it be as a complainant, respondent, or witness, cannot sit on that complaint's respective Investigatory Council or Appeals Council.

9.0 Step 2 of the Complaints Process: Screening

9.1 Once reported, the selected Investigatory Council must look at the complaint to see if it should continue in the Complaints Process. In doing so, the Investigatory Council must consider all the information they have before them and decide if the complaint should:

- move forward to be further investigated; or
- be dismissed where the complaint is either:
 - frivolous;
 - vexatious;
 - in bad faith;
 - arbitrary;
 - untimely; or
 - has no reasonable prospect of success.

9.2 Unless it is subject to an appeal, a dismissed complaint will not be used for any other purpose by the Association.

9.3 Where a complaint is to be dismissed, the Investigatory Council must fully articulate and provide its reasons in writing to the Complainant. The Investigatory Council must also provide the Complainant with an opportunity to make further submissions if the complaint is to be dismissed.

9.4 The Respondent may or may not be notified in writing at all about the complaint at this screening stage where the complaint is dismissed from the outset.

10.0 Step 3 of the Complaints Process: Dispute Resolution

10.1 The Confidentiality Statement at Appendix A of this Policy must be signed by the complainant, respondent, and witnesses following the screening stage. An individual who breaches this agreement may be subject to discipline under Article XV of the Constitution.

10.2 CUASA aims to resolve matters cooperatively, expeditiously, and efficiently. As a result, a complaint that is not dismissed at the screening stage may be referred to dispute resolution.

10.3 The Investigatory Council will refer a complainant and respondent to the Council's choice of a dispute resolution mechanism. The services available could include, but are not limited to,

- mediation;
- discussion with Association representatives available; and/or
- discussion with a counsellor.

10.4 Dispute resolution may also be recommended by the Investigatory Council at later stages in the Complaints Process.

10.5 All information which arises in efforts to settle the dispute must be kept confidential and will not be used by either party in later steps.

10.6 Should a complaint fail to resolve at the dispute resolution stage, it will move onto the Investigation and Decision stage.

11.0 Step 4 of the Complaints Process: Investigation and Decision

11.1 The Investigatory Council will determine how much more information it needs to sufficiently decide on the complaint. The Investigatory Council is empowered to conduct interviews and gather evidence.

11.2 Once the Investigatory Council believes it has contacted all relevant witnesses and collected enough information, it will decide upon the complaint through a majority vote. The Investigatory Council will send the Complainant and Respondent a letter detailing its decision and reasoning for the complaint in writing.

11.3 If the complaint is founded, the Investigatory Council will impose discipline on the Respondent in appropriate circumstances in accordance with Article XV of the Constitution.

11.4 Where the Investigatory Council decides it is necessary, it may refer a complaint to an external investigator. The Investigatory Council retains the power to impose discipline based on the findings of the external investigator.

12.0 Step 5 of the Complaints Process: Appeal

12.1 The Complainant or Respondent may wish to appeal a decision of the Investigatory Council.

12.2 The Appeals Council will hear appeals in instances in which:

- a complainant was dissatisfied with the findings and/or the process of the Investigatory Council;
- a complainant was dissatisfied with the penalty imposed by the Investigatory Council;
- a respondent was dissatisfied with the findings and/or the process of the Investigatory Council; and/or
- a respondent was dissatisfied with the penalty imposed by the Investigatory Council.

12.3 An appeal must be filed within 30 calendar days of the Investigatory Council's decision. The Appeals Council retains the discretion to allow an appeal outside of this limitations period where extraordinary circumstances are present.

APPENDIX A: CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

I, _____, solemnly declare that I will, to the best of my abilities, keep information confidential that I come to learn throughout the course of the Complaints Process. Once a decision on a complaint is finalized through an outcome of an investigation, the terms of this confidentiality statement will no longer be enforced.

I understand that should the Association learn that I revealed confidential material relating to a complaint, I may be subject to discipline under Article XV of the Constitution.

The integrity of the Association's investigative process must be preserved. Confidentiality ensures that individuals in the Association are not dissuaded from coming forward with complaints of harassment. I recognize that confidentiality must be maintained during the Complaints Process to protect individuals from rumours and harassment stemming from unfounded complaints.

This statement must be signed by complainants, respondents, and witnesses to every complaint that comes to the attention of the Investigatory Council following the screening stage.

CUASA Travel Policy

Adopted on November 16, 2023

Approval Authority: CUASA Council

CUASA Administrative Processes for Travel

Advanced Approval for Travel

Your travel on behalf of CUASA must be authorized in advance with the signature of President or the Director. Travel requests below $1,000.00 must be approved by the Steering Committee; travel requests in excess of $1,000.00 must be approved by Council. Such approvals are required before the Travel Request Form will be signed by the President or the Director.

The CUASA Travel Request Form can be found here.

Claiming Travel Expenses from CUASA

The fundamental principle underlying these guidelines is that people should not be out of pocket for necessary expenses incurred while on CUASA business, providing such expenses are reasonable. CUASA will not be responsible for undue charges. A list of Potential Expenses is found below.

CUASA will pay for return transportation (including airport transfers, taxi, or public transit fares, parking), hotel accommodation, and necessary meals following current CAUT Per Diem Rates (listed below). Members are strongly encouraged to use unionized air carriers and hotels, unless there is no other option available.

In an effort to reduce carbon emissions that contribute to climate change, members should book direct flights and flights on fuel-efficient planes whenever possible. Members travelling to locations within 300 kilometers of Ottawa are encouraged to use available rail, bus, public transportation, or carpooling options.

In all cases, receipts are required for expense claims made while travelling for CUASA business.

All receipts should be attached to a list of all claimable expenses, with a date and your signature, and submitted to the CUASA Office.

Payment of expenses is contingent upon full attendance at the authorized meeting, submission of receipts, and authorization by the President or Treasurer for reimbursement of the expenses incurred.

Potential Expenses

Train

Book economy fares; business class is to be used only if you are travelling over a meal time. If there is a VIA RAIL sale when you are booking, please take advantage of the promotional rates.

Air

Choose the least expensive airfare available. Arrangements should be made as early as possible to benefit from possible “early booking” discounts. In no case will CUASA pay more than the regular economy fare, or the lowest fare available.

Car

Please consult with the CUASA Office about using a rental car if appropriate. If you must use your own car, mileage will be reimbursed at the current CAUT rate of $0.58/km.

Parking

Parking may be claimed where necessary. Receipts or other documentation are required for reimbursement.

Public Transit/Taxi/Ride Share

Use public transit when efficient and safe to do so. Taxi or ride share charges are allowable where necessary.

Meals

Reimbursements for meals will be made in accordance with the current CAUT per diem rates:

As of October 2023, current rates are:

- Breakfast $23.60
- Lunch $23.90
- Dinner $58.60
- Sundry $17.30
- Potential Total per day $123.40.

Meals are sometimes provided at conferences and workshops. Reimbursement at the rates above will only be made in cases where meals were not provided.

Hotels/Other Accommodations

When possible, reserve early using the lower conference rates arranged by CAUT, OCUFA, and others for their events. Receipts are required.

In the event that a hotel accommodation is not possible, and you wish to make alternate arrangements, when and if safe to do so, (i.e. AirBnB), please contact the CUASA Office before making any bookings.

Miscellaneous

The following items will not be reimbursed: hotel services such as movies, mini-bars, laundry, etc.; pet care, personal entertainment and refreshments.

Travel Paid by OCUFA

For workshops and meetings sponsored by OCUFA, travel arrangements need to be made through their travel agent and the agent, in turn, will bill OCUFA directly.

For accommodation at OCUFA events, please make arrangements through OCUFA's Administrative Assistant, Lisa Alexis (ocufa@ocufa.on.ca); the hotel will invoice OCUFA directly.

For other expenses incurred (i.e. mileage, parking), calculations will be based on the rate at which OCUFA reimburses. Check with Lisa for the current mileage rate. Send receipts to Lisa Alexis along with a completed OCUFA Expense Claim form for reimbursement.

Any travel to OCUFA-sponsored events not paid for by OCUFA will require pre-approval from CUASA in accordance with this policy, using the Travel Request Form linked above.

Travel Paid by CAUT

CAUT Council

CAUT pays for one Delegate's travel (car/VIA/flight) for each affiliated local per CAUT Council meeting. The travel claim form is part of the Council package and can also be found on the CAUT website. There are two Council meetings per year, one in November and one in April. Normally CUASA's delegate is the External Relations Officer. The President will normally attend the two CAUT Council meetings as the Alternate Delegate.

Given that CAUT Council meetings are usually in Ottawa, there is no need to claim travel or accommodations from CAUT, with the possible exception of transit or mileage to reach the venue. Such claims should be made to CAUT using the travel claim form as part of the Council package.

CAUT Committees

If you have been elected to a CAUT Committee, all your meeting-related expenses will be paid by CAUT according to their policies. Expense claim forms are provided on their website, at the committee meeting or in the agenda package.

CAUT Workshops or Conferences

With pre-approval, CUASA will pay expenses for attendance at CAUT Workshops or Conferences unless you are an organizer. If you are an organizer you are likely a member of a CAUT Committee in which case CAUT will cover your expenses.

Any travel to CAUT-sponsored events not paid for by CAUT will require pre-approval from CUASA in accordance with this policy, using the Travel Request Form linked above.

Reporting

Per CUASA Bylaw 19, members serving as CUASA delegates to Affiliated Organizations shall be required to:

1. Submit a brief written report to the President following meetings of the affiliate to which they are a delegate; and,
2. Where practical, consult in advance with Council regarding significant issues to be raised at meetings.

Members sponsored by the Association to attend conferences shall submit a written report to Council following the conference.

CUASA Time Release Policy

Adopted on January 18, 2024

Approval Authority: CUASA Council

Introduction

This suggestion to Council comes from the Finance Committee, with the support of the Steering Committee. It is aimed at streamlining the process of time release for the members of CUASA's Steering Committee and allocating the release in a fair and equitable manner, in the best interest of the Association.

It is based on the policy of CAUT (<https://www.caut.ca/about-us/caut-policy/lists/administrative-procedures-and-guidelines/release-time-policy>) It is also based on articles 18.8 and 41.4 of the Collective Agreement (<https://carleton.ca/deputyprovost/wp-content/uploads/CU-CUASA-2021-2024-Collective-Agreement-WEB.pdf>).

Its implementation will depend on an agreement from Carleton University, as it calls for administrative and accounting changes on their part. CUASA will bring the matter to the JCAA and/or to collective bargaining.

Background

The principal purpose of the CUASA Release Time Policy is to provide time free of regular academic duties, for officers and chairs of standing committees, so that they can devote time to the work of the Association. Payment of release time funds also serves the purpose of attracting able and experienced volunteers as candidates for office and provides a tangible recognition that the Association values volunteer contributions.

The Release Time Policy is based on the principle that payment of release time funds should be made available for a variety of purposes, provided that an appropriate amount of time is to be delivered to the association by the officer and that the funds are not made available for the personal benefit of any officer so as to be used as a salary supplement.

1 Value of Release Time Units

The value of one unit shall be sufficient to allow release from two one-semester courses or the equivalent.

2 Positions Eligible for Release Time Funds

The positions eligible for a unit amount of release time are members of the Steering Committee* and the unit amount is 0.5 course credit of release time per year. During a bargaining year, other Release Time Units can be distributed at the discretion of the Steering Committee of the Association.

(*) Note: Time Release for the President of the Association, the Grievance Policy and Administration Committee Chairperson and the Collective Bargaining Committee Chairperson are governed by article 18.8 (a) of the Collective Agreement and are not governed by this policy.

3 Vacancies

In the event that a vacancy occurs and is filled at the December meeting of the Council of after, 0.25 credit of release time will be paid to the elected member.

4 Disbursement and Administration of Release Time Funds

4.1 The Steering Committee shall be advised of the officers' units' arrangements for release time by July 1 and will indicate its approval by July 31, in each case. Steering Committee approval is necessary in each case and such approval shall be subject only to the principles stated hereinafter. In the event of a dispute between an officer and the Steering Committee, Council will decide the issue at its fall meeting of that year.

4.2 The release time funds will be disbursed to the unit in each case subsequent to the Steering Committee's approval and upon receipt of an invoice from Carleton University stating to which accounts the funds are to be credited and for what purpose. In no case will the funds be paid directly to the CUASA officer or otherwise be made available to the officer for personal use.

4.3 The release time funds may be used for either or both of the following three purposes:

- They may be used to secure the course or other equivalent release.
- Or they may be paid into a research grant account in the name and for the use of the CUASA officer, which account should be administered by the University in the same manner that it would administer a grant from a Canadian research council in the officer's academic discipline

- Or they may be transferred to a professional development account under similar institutional control.

4.4 The disbursement must be requested and completed within the CUASA fiscal year coinciding with the officer's term.

4.5 Librarians are eligible to receive time away from Library duties. For professional librarian employees, a full-course equivalent shall be deemed to be one working day per week over the contract year (article 18.8.c).

CUASA Policy on Solidarity, Social Justice and Community Donations

Adopted on March 21, 2024

Approval Authority: CUASA Council

The Carleton University Academic Staff Association (CUASA) recognizes the historical significance of faculty unions in upholding progressive values, academic freedom, human rights, and social justice. As a labor union, CUASA derives its strength from maintaining a supportive and reciprocal relationship with sister unions in post-secondary education and other sectors.

CUASA's monetary donations are intended to be consistent with and further the association's goals and objectives. Through these donations, CUASA may participate in social and trade union activism on humanitarian and practical grounds. Donations may be made to support others in related circumstances and to uphold the principles of collective bargaining. This policy outlines the limitations and responsibilities associated with solidarity and general charitable donations.

1. CUASA's solidarity actions and donations must align with and promote the association's goals and objectives.
2. CUASA may use its donations to engage in social and trade/labour union activism. The primary purpose of providing financial support to various groups and causes is to:
 - a. Advance educational equity.
 - b. Promote social justice.
 - c. Enhance democratic bargaining.
 - d. Respond to miscellaneous requests for humanitarian aid in exceptional circumstances.
3. Organizations or causes without a discernible connection to education, social justice, humanitarian, and collective bargaining concerns are not eligible for funding.
4. CUASA will only make solidarity and general charitable donations to non-profit groups and organizations.
5. CUASA's annual budget will include a line item for "Solidarity Donations," with a minimum allocation of $10,000 CAD. Any changes to this amount must be approved by the CUASA Council through the passing of an appropriate motion.

6. All donations in a year must be within the limits of the annual budget line for "Solidarity Donations."
7. Contributions will be made until the funds for the year are exhausted, following the protocols outlined below.
8. CUASA will make solidarity contributions to members on strike or locked out, as follows:
 - a. $2500 to another union at Carleton
 - b. $1000 to another OCUFA/CAUT member association
9. If an OCUFA/CAUT member association is on strike for more than a week, CUASA may decide to contribute an additional $1000 CAD. Any such additional amount is at the discretion of the Council and contingent on the availability of funds.
10. The CUASA Council may authorize a solidarity contribution of up to $1000 to a striking or locked out union in the higher education sector in Canada.
11. The CUASA Council may authorize a solidarity contribution of up to $500 to another labor-related organization in Canada, beyond the higher education sector.
12. The CUASA Council may authorize a solidarity contribution of up to $500 towards an initiative of an organization related to human rights, social justice, humanitarian aid, and disaster relief.
13. The CUASA may contribute up to $5000 CAD towards Scholars at Risk Network Canada.
14. The CUASA may contribute $1000 CAD towards non-profit Community based organizations.
15. The Treasurer will report on the expenditure under this budget line at the Annual General Membership Meeting.
